The king is not
above the law
and neither is a President.
Donald Trump
embezzled funds
from his foundation.

The Washington Post has exposed in detail how The Donald J. Trump Foundation Inc.. a “501(c)(3)” non-profit, paid $10,000 for a painting of Donald J. Trump which wound up being hung in a bar at Donald J. Trump's Doral Golf Club. The bylaws of the Foundation and federal law prohibits this kind of payment.

More importantly, New York State Law, Article 155 of the New York Penal Code makes that the crime of embezzlement. Its the kind of theft or larceny that occurs when you devote money held in trust to a purpose for which it was not intended. It's a very simple legal standard: use non-profit money for an unlawful purpose and you go to jail.

The President has no immunity for acts that he/she did before they get elected. J.B. Tucker & Associates wrote to New York Attorney General September 29, 2016 and asked why Donald Trump has not been indicted for embezzling the funds of his Foundation. We're still waiting for an answer.
